Chapter 7, Paragraph 577, read:

⁽⁵⁷⁷⁾ Walnut Grove, 24 miles above the mouth of Sacramento River, is at the junction with Georgiana Slough. Public landings are on the SE and NW bank of the river at Walnut Grove. Moderate quantities of gasoline, diesel, marine supplies, ice and food may be obtained in town only. Delta Cross Channel just N of Walnut Grove is used by small vessels transiting between Sacramento River and Snodgrass Slough when the control gates are open. A wharf with a large wooden boat storage shed is on the E side of the river and can provide gasoline, a pump out station and a boat hoist. A measured nautical mile along the NE side of the river begins 1.2 miles above Walnut Grove.
