Department of the Army

David J. Leach, P.E.
Division Programs Director
North Atlantic Division
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
Brooklyn, New York

Mr. David J. Leach entered the Senior Executive Service in January 2011, serving as the Director of Programs for the North Atlantic Division of the US Army Corps of Engineers. In this capacity, Mr. Leach is responsible for the development and execution of all military, civil works, environmental, interagency, and international programs throughout the Northeast Region of the United States, to include the National Capitol, Europe and Africa. He provides leadership and supervision of the Programs Directorate and program management for the planning, engineering, construction, operations, and real estate services with the Division's six District offices in Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, New England, and Wiesbaden (Germany). The programs include major military construction in support of Army Transformation and Base Realignment and Closure, and also national services as the Planning Center of Expertise for Coastal Storm Damage, the Army Residential Communities Initiative, and the Army's Enhanced Use Leasing Program. The programs are valued at over $7.5 billion with over 3,500 employees in support of the Department of Defense and the Services, the European Command, the Africa Command, other federal, state and local agencies, and foreign nations.
